Reaching TAY

San Diego NHA

San Diego's Neighborhood House Association (NHA) Project In-Reach program is an outreach and engagement program designed to help incarcerated population with substance use and/or mental health disorders as they prepare for re-entry into the community. They provided valuable information to us this month and we look forward to their continued partnership.

San Diego Job Corps Career Expo provided an opportunity to reach transitional aged youth (TAY) to discuss the Back2Work program. Information was gathered for employment and educational opportunities

LJ Miller started with Goodwill Industries this month as a fork lift driver. Mr Miller came to our program after being incarcerated for 40 years. It's difficult for our elders to get work when they get out, especially those who have served long sentences. Our partners at Goodwill were able to create this position for him and give him an opportunity to grow. We are thankful for this special partnership.
